

NEW YORK'S HOMETOWN CONNECTION

DAILY NEWS

Thursday, October 2, 2003

in the know

By ALEV AKTAR, AMY DILUNA AND CARRIE SIMMONS

sexy shmattes

You don't have to be Jewish to wear Rabbi's Daughters tanks and tees. Sisters Nina, Myla and Daniella have put their language skills to use and created a line of T-shirts featuring playful Yiddish words and expressions like Goy Toy (a plaything for non-Jewish boys), Meshuggenah (a crazy girl) and Shiksa (a non-Jewish girl) in Hebrew-style script.

The cotton tees are sure to be conversation starters, and they're already creating a buzz in Hollywood. Christina Aguilera scooped up a Shiksa tank, Kelly Osbourne wore the same shirt Tuesday on MTV, and the stylist for "Will & Grace" picked up three for the show.

Tees and tanks are $36 and will hit New York shops this month. Visit www.rabbisdaughters.com to order from L.A. boutiques.